

Jewish-Christian-Muslim Relationships: Hope for the Perilous Journey Ahead

Tuesday
Nov. 15, 7pm
KKBE
Synagogue,
90 Hasell St,

With Dr. Charles Kimball, Presidential Professor and Director of Religious Studies, University of Oklahoma

Jews, Christians, and Muslims—communities of faith that all look to Abraham as their spiritual patriarch—have travelled a difficult road together for many centuries. This presentation will highlight both the most difficult times of conflict and persecution and ways these communities have lived together in relative peace in the Middle East, Europe, and the West. While anti-Semitism remains a serious challenge and Islamophobia is widespread, there are reasons for hope that a more constructive future is possible. How can people of faith and goodwill contribute positively in ways that help the children of Abraham live into that future?

Open to all students!!

